An exciting programme...

All abstracts for the Exeter conference have now been received and an outline programme has been developed. There will be 39 papers in all, including four poster presentations. Following the opening session on the morning of Day 1 (9th July), which will include the prestigious Ansel Dunham Lecture, there will be nine technical sessions, covering Resource Development, Environment, Hydrogeology (general), Hydrogeological Impact Assessment (for abstraction licensing), Building Stones, Chemo-Stratigraphy, Licence to Operate, Resources '2', and Geotechnics. In addition, there will be a 'Back to Basics' workshop, aimed at providing essential guidance on resources, exploration, hydrogeology and geotechnics to young extractive industry geologists. As usual, most of the presentations will be in parallel sessions, cunningly arranged to minimise difficulties in deciding which to attend, but some will be in single 'plenary' sessions. The AGM will take place after lunch on the second day (10th July), immediately prior to the final session on geotechnics. Further details of the programme, and the field trips, will be given in the next newsletter, once all of the successful authors have been contacted.

The submission process for abstracts is now closed and the programme is full. Any additional abstracts received will be placed on a 'reserve' list and/or invited to prepare posters

Trade Stands

Exeter trade stand booking forms were issued to former exhibitors in early January, with prices held at the 2018 conference price of £375. The uptake has been fantastic and we would like to thank all those choosing to support the EIG in 2020! With just five stands remaining; if you would like to exhibit at Exeter please do download the booking form from the website, or contact Marcus Dorey to arrange securing a place. We look forward to seeing all the stands and exhibitors in July. Please email: marcus.dorey@hanson.biz

EIG Charities

The upcoming EIG conference will be raising money for two good causes; Dementia UK and Devon Air Ambulance. Both are fantastic causes, and hopefully all who attend will help to beat the 2018 fundraising total.

In a departure from previous conferences the perennial raffle is being replaced by what is best described as 'Extractive Industry Bingo'. The standard bingo format has been vastly improved by swapping the numbers for items from the industry (think of the caller shouting "Primary Jaw Crusher!" rather than "Dancing queen; Number 17" you've got the idea). Bingo cards will be sold instead of raffle tickets, and the more cards you buy the better your chances of winning a prize.

If you would like to donate a prize for the evening (speedboats are encouraged) and get your company logo on the bingo cards for the big night then please contact :Will Jones
